NEW GROUND
AT VERDUNHOLD GAINS MADE ALONG MEUSE
IN FACE OF FIERCE COUNTER
ATTACKS BY GERMANS.

ACTIVITY A SURPRISE

French Operations Were Unexpected
In View of Drive in Progress
Along the Somme.—Success
Causes Gratification.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, Oct. 25.—The Germans made a counter attack north of Verdun last night in an effort to regain ground won by the French in yesterday's assault. They attempted to recapture the Haumont quarries, and the de Lamouilly battery. The war office announces in both cases they were repulsed.

Germans Claim a Gain.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The war office announced today attack made on the Verdun front yesterday gained ground for them. The French assaults on the Somme front were without success.

French Victory Unexpected.

Paris, Oct. 25.—Verdun, long lost sight of, sprang suddenly and unexpectedly today into the fore front of the public mind, which exclusively has been directed towards the battle on the Somme front. The German front on the right bank of the Meuse literally was swept away for a distance of four and a half miles like straw before the wind.

General Nivelle for weeks past has been watching the German movement like a hawk, carefully calculating the effect of every withdrawal of troops for transfer to the Somme and eastern fronts. At the same time he quietly made his preparations when he judged the Germans had thinned their defenses to the danger point, he struck like lightning. The result was one of the most brilliant operations of the campaign.

Germans Hold Fort Vaux.

The Germans, who yesterday were pressing close upon the inner line of defenses at Forts Souville and Tavannes, have now been driven beyond the outer defense of the Fort Douaumont-Vaux line. Vaux Fort remains in the possession of the Germans, but the French line extends beyond it on the north at Vaux village and on the south at the south of it, at Lamouilly battery and Chenois wood, from both of which positions it can be readily attacked.

The French artillery preparation was brief, but intense, and was over before the German commanders had time to bring up reinforcements, even when they were available. The assaulting French wave caught them before the Germans recovered from their surprise, and swept over trench after trench, sending prisoners in all lines to the rear. The French losses were very light, it is believed, even lighter than any recorded in the attacks on the Somme front.

Success Revives Confidence.

News of the success has caused renewed public enthusiasm here, and this is all the greater because of the general impression that Verdun was over and done with and both sides were waiting for the final blow. The French could strike a smashing blow at Verdun while carrying on an extended offensive on the Somme, has greatly increased public confidence and gone far to lessen the depression caused by the loss of Constance.

Italians Aid in Macedonia.

Paris, Oct. 25.—Italian cavalry from southern Albania formed a junction yesterday with cavalry and artillery from entente forces on Macedonian front, the war office announced today.

LEADS THE ROUMANIAN ARMIES IN WAR

General Averescu.

General Averescu is the new commander-in-chief of the Roumanian army, which he reorganized nine years ago. He was an important figure in Roumania's successful war against Bulgaria following close on the heels of the first Balkan war.

Fix Slav Losses
At 1,797,000
Since June 1st

Total casualties in the Russian army since June 1, are placed at 1,797,000 in figures given out today by a semi-official news agency in Berlin, declared to have been taken from the latest reports of the Russian Central Identification Bureau at Kiev.

"Included in this number," continued the statement, "are 35,981 officers. Among officers who have recently fallen are two generals, six colonels in command of brigades, and eight colonels and lieutenant colonels in command of regiments. The largest number of casualties was among the Siberian corps and Caucasian cavalry."

BELOIT MAN FAILS TO GET A DIVORCE

Charges of Cruelty Were Not Substantiated Judge Grimm Holds.

Two Decrees Granted.

William J. Clark of Beloit, a lawyer by trade, failed to substantiate his charges of cruelty against his wife, Sarah C. Clark, and was denied a divorce in a contested action, by Judge Grimm in the circuit court Tuesday afternoon.

The trouble all started at the breakfast table one morning, Clark testified. One of the three children, a five-year-old girl, had helped herself to two liberal teaspoonsful of sugar for his oatmeal. Clark sweetened his coffee, and the youngsters reached for more sugar. "I guess you've had enough sugar for your oatmeal, with sugar selling at ten cents a pound," was the father's remark, he testified. "The mother interposed at once with the assertion that the children could have as much as they wanted of what little there was in the house. Other words followed, and then Clark felt a blow on the head, he said on the witness stand.

He declared he was then pounced upon and choked, whereupon he made his escape with all haste possible.

This was the only instance of cruelty which Clark presented in evidence. His wife objected to granting him a divorce, declaring that she took his remarks as a personal insult and would have resisted as she did under any similar circumstances, no matter who was the offender. She testified further that her husband was a poor provider and that she found it necessary to eke out her earnings by taking in washings. Judge Grimm denied the plaintiff's application.

Two other divorces, which were granted yesterday, involved Beloit parties. The final decree was ordered in the case of Albert J. Winegar against Alice E. Winegar, and Gertrude M. Conroy of Lenox against Thomas Conroy on the grounds of habitual drunkenness and desertion. There were no children and no alimony was asked.

BOARD HEARING WEDNESDAY ON SHARON ST. IMPROVEMENTS

Members of the board of public works will hold a meeting a week from today to hear any objections consequent to the recent order for the laying of curb and gutter on Sharon street between Main street and Fremont, a distance of about six blocks. This work was declared urgent by the city commission. At the present time it is unknown whether or not any objection will arise from property owners along the street.

IN COURT FOR FAILURE TO PAY SUPPORT MONEY

William McComb, West Bluff street, was in Municipal court this morning for failure to pay five dollars each week for the support of his children, pending non-support charges, as ordered by the court. His examination on the charge was set for Monday morning.

AS CRISIS CLEARS

King Constantine and French Minister Hold Conference in Which Amicable Settlement is Reached.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Athens, Oct. 25.—The Greek government today issued a communication to clear up misunderstandings due to exaggerated reports of King Constantine's interview with the French military attaché on Friday. The communication explains that the French government made no demands, but merely submitted a memorandum, and that the king never declared he was prepared to break off relations with the entente.

It is thought that as result of a conversation between the king and the French minister this morning, during which explanations were made, the French minister may be withdrawn shortly from Athens and Piræus.

The king and the French minister conversed for half an hour. The official statement says the situation has been improved considerably on account of the loyal declarations of the king regarding his sentiments toward the entente, and also on account of the French minister's assurances respecting the intentions of the entente toward Greece. These assurances were given with a view to re-establishing relations of confidence with the Hellenic government on the basis of maintenance of benevolent neutrality in conformity with the previous agreement.

Columbus, N. M., Oct. 25.—Heavy shipments of entrenching tools, picks, shovels, crowbars and sandbags have arrived here. It is said they are for the use of the punitive expedition in Mexico. Officers take the shipment as indication of a possible renewal of activity in the field.

Long Live Silver.

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 25.—"Death to paper currency. Long live silver," is the new non-political slogan adopted in Mexico, according to passengers arriving here today. No effort was made to prevent the use of this slogan, which is an expression against the de facto government money.

CARS IN COLLISION;
DRIVERS SEEK DAMAGE

Evansville Man and Local Driver Come Together at Court and Park Streets Last Night.

Automobiles driven by Gilbert Yahn of this city and John M. Shrove of Evansville crashed together at the corner of Court and Park streets last night. Shrove's car was least damaged, he losing a wheel and bent fender, while Yahn's frame was bent, his radiator damaged and his bumper broken.

The Evansville man, spectators say, attempted to make a short turn from Court street to Park. Yahn, on the right side, was driving east, and when Shrove drove between him and the curb the cars collided.

Shrove, according to Fred Gilman of Evansville, in a telephone message this morning to the local police department, was on his way here this morning seeking a settlement with Yahn. The latter this afternoon said that Shrove had not shown up, and furthermore that he was entirely at fault. Yahn says damage to the extent of seventy-five dollars was suffered by his car.

CAPTURE TCHERNAVODA

Rumanians and Russians Evacuate
Last Danube Town in Dobruja.
—Germans Capture Vulcan Pass.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Petrograd, Oct. 25.—The Rumanians and Russians have evacuated the Danube town of Tchernavoda in Dobruja, the war office announced today. The statement says Field Marshal von Mackensen's army is continuing its attack all along the Dobruja front. The Russian Rumanian positions at Lake Tschual, about 12 miles north of Constanza, also has been evacuated.

Capture Vulcan Pass.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—Vulcan pass on the Transylvanian front has been captured by General von Falkenhayn's army, the war office announced today. In Dobruja, the capture of Tchernavoda was followed this morning by the capture of the Danube town of Tchernavoda, the Russian and Rumanians of their last railroad communication in Dobruja.

Admit Retirement.

Bucharest, Oct. 25.—Rumanian forces operating in the Black Sea province of Dobruja have retired to the north of the Danube river, according to the Rumanian official statement today.

A further retirement by Rumanian forces on the Transylvanian front is announced by the war office today. The Rumanians near Predeal and Kimpolung, the statement says, were forced to fall back a little.

Rumania Sorely Pressed.

Berlin, via London, Oct. 25.—The iron grip of the central powers upon Rumania has tightened in two important notches with the capture of Medjidie and Rashova, in Dobruja, and of Predeal, on the Transylvanian border.

The conquest of these important places have been achieved with surprising speed. Military men as usual, refused to prophesy as to other developments of the campaign against Rumania, but appear confident that it will come in due time.

With the capture of Constanza the Rumanians lost their principal seaport, while the taking of Medjidie and Rashova now places Tchernavoda in a critical condition, and in military opinion here, threatens Rumania more than ever.

Ready for Invasion.

The capture of Predeal comes as a climax to the recent forcing of a number of important mountain passes from Transylvania into Rumania, so that the central powers appear to be nearly in a position to swoop down upon the Rumanian plains and attack the heart of the country.

Predeal and the passes behind it spell the loss to Rumania of its natural western fortification formed by the mountains of Transylvania. Medjidie and Rashova, if they lead to the capture of Tchernavoda, denote, with Turtukal and Silistria, the removal of the artificial barrier to access to Rumania across its other natural fortification, the Danube river.

These photographs, taken at Cuffley, near London, show how the British are bagging the night prowling Zeppelins that have been making periodic visits to England. The large photo shows powerful searchlights playing on the Zeppelin several thousand feet in the air. The insert shows the same machine a few minutes later after it had been hit by anti-aircraft guns. The Zeppelin was a complete wreck and all the members of her large crew were killed.

NORWAY STIRRED AT SUBMARINE WARFARE;
MAY CAUSE A BREAK

Repeated Losses As Result of U-Boat Attacks Brings Situation to Acute Stage.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Oct. 25.—The steamer Framfield, 2,500 tons, has been sunk, Lloyd's shipping agency announces. The sinking by German submarines of more Norwegian steamships valued at about 5,000,000 kroner, is reported in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Christiania.

Shipping losses dropped considerably on the Norwegian exchange today. The steamers Alis and Rising, and the schooner Theodor, together with the Swedish schooners Antona and Henrietta, are among the latest submarine victims, the dispatch adds.

The Tidens Tegn of Christiania states that one boat with six men from the Norwegian steamer Ravn reported sunk by a German submarine in the Arctic on October 2, has been lost while another boat with eleven men on board, reached a lonely part of the Norwegian coast after drifting thirteen hours.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Lloyd's report forwarded to the state department from London, records the destruction by a German submarine of the Swedish steamers Svartik and Wilhelm, and the British steamer Ethel Duncan.

News agency reports from Copenhagen, through London, last night, reported sensational rumors were current regarding relations between Norway and Germany. German submarines were declared to be waging a persistent war on Norwegian shipping, and an account stated five German submarines had established a regular blockade of the Norwegian coast. The reply to Germany's protest against Norway's stand, with regard to submarines, was that the Norwegian government organ in referring to the relations between Norway and Germany declared it might assume that the German protest was so couched as not to bear the character of an ultimatum.

SEAPLANES IN RAID ON AUSTRIAN WORKS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Rome, via Paris, Oct. 25.—Squadrons of Italian and French seaplanes have bombed Austrian military works in three places on the west coast of Austria and escaped unscathed, says an official announcement of the Italian war office today. An aerial battle between the French hydroplanes and Austrian seaplanes, in which one Austrian machine was captured and another fell into a lagoon at Basileghe, on the Italian coast, near Corle, also is reported. The Austrian squadrons had been throwing bombs at Corle.

Air Raids on Somme.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—German aeroplanes on the Somme front made more than 600 raids on Anglo-French positions, October 22, says the Overseas News Agency. There were 209 aerial fights between German airmen and entente allied flyers on this day and according to the news agency it is stated with certainty that in the Somme sector alone more than sixteen entente aeroplanes were shot down. In addition, a number of hostile aeroplanes were forced to land behind the Anglo-French lines. The weather on the day mentioned was bright.

FLOUR $10.00 A BARREL

Wholesale Price of High Grade Family Flour Reaches High Mark Since Civil War.—Cotton Also Sets Record.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Oct. 25.—After nearly four months of rising prices on world shortage due to European war and extraordinary crop damage in Argentina, Canada and the United States, the wheat market today capped the climax with a jump of about seven cents a bushel. Foreigners, however, retailed by a swing to the selling side and the greater part of today's gain vanished. The market closed relatively weak at a net advance of seven-eighths to two cents, with December wheat at $1.80 to $1.80 1/2, and May at $1.80 1/2 to $1.80 3/4.

Buying, which was on an immense scale, received its chief impetus from reports that the drought damage in Argentina, which assumed the proportions of a disaster, and was continuing to grow worse.

Flour at $10 a barrel. The wholesale price of high grade family flour was advanced to $10 a barrel today, the highest price since the civil war. This is an increase of 30 cents within the last two days.

Minneapolis, Oct. 25.—Prices for best grades of flour rose thirty cents a barrel as a result of bullish condition of wheat market. Heavy wheat was quoted yesterday at $9.70 a barrel, sold at $10 today.

Cotton Prices Soar.

New York, Oct. 25.—Cotton futures market rose today above 20 cents a pound, the May option rising 22 points, to 20.01, the highest price it has touched since the civil war.

A sensational break in the cotton market today carried prices down to $4.50 a bale after an early advance to above the twenty-cent level.

TEN COMMANDMENTS
REMAIN UNALTERED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—Efforts to shorten the ten commandments as read in communion service have been abandoned at the present meeting of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church, leaders in conference asserted today.

It was asserted that until the next convention in 1919, at least, the decalogue will stand in the prayer book as it is.

A commission appointed to suggest methods of enrichment and revision of the book of common prayer, reported as favoring the shortening of five of the commandments, his read in service, by the elimination of the reasons. It was urged that they are unnecessary. Members of the commission asserted today, however, the suggestion would not be pressed at this convention.

IN SANTO DOMINGO?

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Shemygan, Oct. 25.—August Kastner, twenty-eight, son of Mrs. Adam Kastner of Shemygan, and a sergeant in the United States marine corps, in Haiti, was killed at the battle of Santo Domingo, according to a telegram received by his mother last night. The message gave no details, but simply read: "August Kastner shot and killed."

Kastner was born and raised in Shemygan and left here eight years ago, when he enlisted in the marine corps. He saw service in the Philippines and in Mexico, and had been in Haiti for the last six months.

The Fight.

New York, Oct. 25.—The death of General Ramon Batista, a rebel leader, in a fight between his forces and American troops in the Dominican republic yesterday, was characterized by Wm. W. Russell, United States minister to the republic upon his arrival here today, as "the smallest loss that could come to that country."

Batista has been a thorn in the flesh of the present Dominican government for some time. Mr. Russell said, when shown dispatches regarding fighting near Santo Domingo, "I am sure Batista is a man of 200 malcontents he had fomented much trouble. The minister and his family were passengers on the steamship Havana, from Havana."

HOLD FUNERAL OF MURDERED PREMIER

London, Oct. 25.—The funeral of Count Karl Sturgk, the late Austrian premier, was held this afternoon in the Cathedral of St. Stephen. Archbishop Piffl officiated. Emperor Francis Joseph was represented by Archduke Leopold Salvator. Tonight the body will be taken to Herbarian, the premier's formal home, for burial in the family tomb.

For successor to Count Sturgk as premier, the names of Dr. Ernest von Koerber, now finance minister of Austria-Hungary, and Prince Conrad von Hohenlohe-Schillingsfurs, now Austrian premier of the interior, are mentioned.

Dr. Friedrich Adler, who shot and killed Premier Sturgk on last Saturday, was today turned over to the court, where the case is to be tried.

BOMB DOES DAMAGE
AT SUBWAY STATION

New York, Oct. 25.—Explosion of a bomb or dynamite at the 110th street station of Lenox avenue subway line early today did considerable damage to that station, smashed the ticket agent booth, injured the agent slightly, broke electric lights and windows in the kiosks, tore off a portion of sidewalk overhead and broke windows in some of the apartment houses nearby. There was no train at the station or near it at the moment. Traffic was suspended for an hour.

Later police reports showed that four persons were injured in the explosion.

A subway train containing passengers had left the station just two minutes before the explosion occurred.

There has been a railway strike in progress since September.

ISSUED NO PERMIT TO ANTI-CATHOLICS

BLUMENFELD ASSERTS GUARD-
IANS OF LIBERTY DID NOT ASK FOR USE OF CAPITOL.

AN EXPOSE OF TACTICS

Statement Circulated in Catholic
Newspaper Shown Up As Democratic Party's Campaign Methods.

"Neither has the Guardians of Liberty nor any express or ex-press—ex-press King nor ex-press Mowry—nor any persons representing either or both of them, ever made application to the use of the assembly chambers of the statehouse or any other room in the statehouse to hold there a lecture or meeting or proceeding of any kind. Had such application been made I certainly would not have granted it."

"M. F. BLUMENFELD,
Superintendent of Public Property,
Madison, Oct. 24, 1916."

Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—Superintendent M. F. Blumenfeld of the department of public property issued the above statement to reiterate a denial made by him some days ago to the effect that a statement published by the Catholic Citizen of Milwaukee, purporting to contain an advertisement in which it was announced that the use of the assembly chamber had been granted to the Guardians of Liberty by Governor Philipp. The purpose of the use, so the advertisement declared, was to provide the alleged former priest and nun with an opportunity to make an "expose of Catholicism."

It is said that 80,000 copies of the publication containing the article and alleged advertisement in question were sold to the Democratic state central committee.

Governor Asks Retraction.
On October 21 the editor replied to the effect that no one should have been misled by the article for it was stated in the context that this had "never happened," etc. No other explanation or correction has been made.

Many Copies Reported Distributed.
It is said that thousands of copies of the Catholic Citizen containing the matter in question have been circulated among citizens of that faith and that such circulation has been for political purposes.

"Did you ever know of anything more contemptible," asked Speaker L. C. Whitely, "than the article for it was pointed out that the article did not claim that such an advertisement ever had been printed. Why, when I read the article I gathered no other idea from it than that it was a bonafide criticism of the administration for the facts set forth in the reproduction. And I have never seen a person who does not get the same impression from reading it."

Orfordville News

Orfordville, Oct. 24.—Several of the tobacco raisers hereabouts have already commenced taking down the crop. All are anxious to find what it will do after it is handled.

The street commissioner has had a force of men employed for the past day or two cleaning the streets and gutters. The appearance of the village is very much improved as a result.

The light company, are excavating for the foundation for their new engine that they expect to install in a month.

The annual firemen's dance is billed for November. There will doubtless be a large turnout as all appreciate the services of the company.

The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary meeting of the M. E. church in Orfordville was held at the home of Mrs. Leroy Grenawalt. There was a good attendance and an interesting and profitable time.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Anderson were among the Janesville shoppers on Tuesday.

Several residents of the village are experimenting with waterproof cement in the basements of their homes. This is one of the problems that have confronted the village for years, and if some method of keeping the basements dry during the spring could be made practicable, it would be a welcome discovery.

Mrs. James Mow received a telegram on Monday announcing the death of her mother, Mrs. Stephen Corbett, who is also a sister, learning on Friday of last week of her serious illness, left for her bed on Saturday. She did not appear to be any better, however, until after her sister's death.

OLD PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

A medicinal preparation like Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, that has real curative value almost sells itself. Like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited to those who are in need of it.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a physician's prescription. It has been tested for years and has brought relief to countless numbers who have suffered.

The success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

Do not suffer. Get a bottle of Swamp-Root from any druggist now. Start treatment today.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Janesville Daily Gazette.

WEST CENTER

West Center, Oct. 24.—James Pennington, a serious accident last Wednesday afternoon when one of his horses crushed him against the stall. He did not feel much hurt at first, but afterwards he began to feel worse and started to walk to the home of his sister, Mrs. John Goldsmith, there being nobody at home. On his way to his sister's home, over half a mile away, he became gradually weaker and shortly after reaching there became unconscious. Dr. Harvey was immediately summoned, who found that no bones were broken, but that he had sustained a serious hemorrhage of the stomach and had lost about one and one-half quarts of blood. It was found necessary to keep him very quiet for several days. He eventually recovered.

Mrs. James Mow received a telegram on Monday announcing the death of her mother, Mrs. Stephen Corbett, who is also a sister, learning on Friday of last week of her serious illness, left for her bed on Saturday. She did not appear to be any better, however, until after her sister's death.

GERMAN PLAY WAS WELL ACTED FOR OTHER MATTERS NECESSARY TUESDAY

The German-American play, "Das Grosse Heimweh," was offered at the New Myers theatre last evening. Ten actors of reputation were in the cast. The play was intended as a German-American character portrayal, revealing the ideals of patriotism for the United States of the foreign born German-American citizen and those of the American citizen. It held the interest of the audience from start to finish. The biggest factor of the play was that it dealt with an American situation in a way that respect most imported German plays.

Commission Too Busy at Meeting Yesterday to Go Into Detail on Next Year's Levy.

Members of the city commission at their meeting yesterday gave little time to the consideration of the city tax budget for next year. The press of much other business of really more importance at the present time, intervened and the budget's consideration was left until Friday, adjournment being taken until that time.

City Clerk J. P. Hammarlund presented his figures as given in the Gazette last night. Because no definite totals have been obtained for the totals to be raised in the highway fund, the general fund, the entire budget was laid over. These two latter funds are really the big items for consideration and it is expected that much time will be spent before they are arrived at satisfactorily.

A detailed budget from the board of education for next year was received by the commission. The actual amount desired to run the schools is $52,361.72. The commission also received the request that Mayor Fathers be directed to borrow the sum of $5,000 to be paid to the city of the school fund, the same to be used for salaries and current expenses. This amount will be returned to the city coffers from the school fund if the tax levy is raised.

A similar sum was borrowed a month ago and it was stated yesterday that no doubt the school board would make a similar request for December.

City Attorney Charles H. Lange was present at the meeting and received his first duties from the commission. Mayor Fathers reported that he had secured a settlement with Mrs. Ellen Ring, who threatened to sue the city for injury alleged to have resulted from a defective sidewalk in the fourth ward.

Clark Hammarlund was ordered to draw an order for $150 in favor of the city attorney for full payment of the claim. Mrs. Ring releasing the city for the amount.

Commissioner of Streets Goodman was instructed to have gutters on the James Place and Elliott street, between McKee boulevard and Alphonso Place, also, to serve notice on the owners of the 141-143 inclusive, Spring Brook addition, to remove material from between sidewalks and curb proper on James Place, McKee boulevard and Elliott street.

Commissioner Goodman reported a total of 324 cubic yards of stone quarried, crushed and removed from the city plant from Oct. 9 to Oct. 21. Of this amount 644.5 went to Brown and Colons contractors doing the Oakland avenue-Forest Park boulevard job, and 214 cubic yards for city work.

Last two weeks were approved and passed.

MILITIA COMPANY WILL GIVE DANCE

To Entertain in An Attempt to Raise Money for Furnishings for Tomorrow evening the Second Separate company of the Wisconsin National Guard will give a dance in their armory.

The purpose of the dance is to raise funds for the company hall. During the last month this militia organization has moved into a new armory over the Kemmerer garage on East Main street.

The armory is one of the finest in the state, but requires a good deal of money to equip. Part of the rental is furnished by the federal government and the balance is donated by the men of the company, and the rest is obtained by the renting of the hall to various social organizations and by giving dances and other entertainments.

The dance tomorrow is the first affair attempted by the company, and is to raise enough money to outfit the company room.

The use to which it is put.

"The Second Separate company has worked hard and has been a great credit to Janesville and one well known to the city of the Commercial club. 'Now it needs the support of the citizens, and it deserves it.'"

The company hall is a large, well ventilated one that is admirably adapted for dancing and with a good orchestra the dance will probably be a great success socially as well as financially.

Christ Church Guild and the Altar Guild will have a cake sale Saturday at the Woman's Rest Room, 120 East Milwaukee Street.

Empire Hotel Changes Hands

Old Hostelry Will Be Completely Remodeled and Made into Modern Establishment.

Mr. D. H. Higgins has purchased the hotel standing on the corner of Broadway and Second streets and will remodel and operate it strictly first class on the European plan.

Mr. Higgins plans to have the water, gas, electric, telephone, and all modern conveniences, as well as some very neat outside improvements such as Marquises over the entrance and other features which will add to the appearance of the hotel in general.

The cafe or dining room will be operated a la carte together with a special noon-day business luncheon at 35c. However, the cafe will not be opened for 10 days or two weeks while improvements and furnishings are being placed.

Having secured the chef, the cuisine and service in the cafe will be on a par with any in Southern Wisconsin. Arrangements have been completed for excellent Taxi and Bus service to all trains.

When completed the making over of the hotel will give Janesville one of the most complete little European hotels in Wisconsin.

MARY E. DONNELLY WEDS W. P. TRACEY

The marriage of Miss Mary E. Donnelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Donnelly, 511 Chestnut street, to William P. Tracey, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Edgerton News

Edgerton, Oct. 25.—Miss Dorothy Towne pleasantly entertained twenty of her friends last evening at her home in honor of her seventeenth birthday. The home was decorated with hallowe'en decorations and guests were served and a pleasant evening enjoyed by all who were present.

Dean Swift and Ed. Peters secured a nice bag of game yesterday when they shot thirteen wild geese. Ray Edler, who plays the position of halfback on the university football team, was a business caller in the city yesterday.

E. L. Hopkins departed for Vernon county last evening, where he will look after land interests.

Mrs. O. M. Nelson, in company with her niece, Mrs. Swenberg of Minneapolis, are visiting at the home of Belmont and Janesville relatives for a few days.

The city water tower is undergoing repairs and receiving a new coat of paint.

Mrs. C. E. Mabbett and daughter, Miss Josephine, called on Janesville friends yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hanlon departed for Mauston yesterday, where they will visit for a few days.

Mrs. M. Sweeton of Fullerton, Cal., who has been visiting with relatives in this vicinity, departs for her home tomorrow.

Mrs. Sarah Greenwood and Mrs. George White were Milton Junction visitors yesterday, calling at the home of relatives.

Mrs. Louise Pearce, Miss Helen Coon and Miss Clifford spent last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dean at Avon. Mrs. Dean was formerly Miss Dorothy Wilcox and was an instructor in the schools of this city.

The football game scheduled at the driving park this afternoon between Edgerton high school and Milton college, promises to give the local team the hardest workout of the season.

The Milton team is much heavier and is reported as playing fast ball. The grounds are in poor shape for the game and the advantage the visitors have in weight will be of benefit to them.

The next high school team to be played will be Janesville on Friday. The game will be played Friday so as to enable the home team to witness the game at Madison Saturday between Chicago and Wisconsin.

J. J. Leary was pleasantly surprised last evening when about twenty of his student friends took possession of his home and tendered him a surprise in honor of his birthday. The evening was spent in a social way and the guests presented Mr. Leary with a chair in token of their esteem.

Miss R. Hartzel has been suffering the past three weeks with pleurisy pneumonia and her daughter, Mrs. Hartzel, has been in attendance. Mrs. Hartzel has so far recovered as for Mrs. Palmer to be able to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fiedler are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl at their home.

A new heating plant is to be installed in the passenger depot. Part of the material arrived this morning.

Milton Junction News

Milton Junction, Oct. 25.—The Royal Neighbors entertained Tuesday evening at a hallowe'en party, each member having a guest. About forty were present. Appropriate games were enjoyed and an appetizing luncheon was served. The hall was tastefully decorated with hallowe'en witches, pumpkins and black cats. Mrs. H. Strassburg entertained the teachers of the grades and high school at five hundred on Monday evening in honor of Miss Jean Hanson's birthday anniversary. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barlass and Mrs. David Barlass of Janesville were guests of Mrs. Mary Paul on Tuesday.

Mrs. Anna Bliven of Edgerton spent yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morse.

Mrs. Mary Weaver has received the announcement of the marriage of her daughter, Miss Agnes Palmer O'Connor, to J. P. Schaub of Butte, Montana, which occurred in Chicago, Oct. 4.

They will be at home after November 1, at 203 S. Fuller street, Chicago. J. G. Miller went to Milwaukee on Tuesday morning with two carloads of hogs.

Miss Gusta Pollett of Janesville was a guest of friends here yesterday.

Mrs. Forbes of Florida, who has been visiting relatives and friends here, has gone to New York City.

Messdames White and Greenwood of Edgerton were guests of Messrs. and Mesdames Thomas Driver and George Mattheson Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bassett of Dakota are visiting relatives here.

Miss Hazel Driver was in Janesville, Monday evening, to attend "Pom Pom" at the Myers theatre.

Mrs. Ed. Rice of Edgerton and Mrs. Daggett of Janesville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Thompson on Tuesday.

Mrs. Helen Kerns attended the King's Daughters convention at Janesville yesterday.

Mrs. Eva Kidder is home from her

Whitewater News

Whitewater, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Helen Clapp was called to the city by the illness and death of her uncle, J. A. Chaffee, who was a former resident of this city. Mr. Chaffee died on Monday and was buried on Tuesday at Monmouth, Ill. He is survived by a wife and a son, A. B. Chaffee.

Mrs. H. A. Dierfeld has gone to Oshkosh, Mo., to visit her two months. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bulkley are spending a few days in Elkhorn.

The Young Ladies Auxiliary of the Congregational church church gave a supper last evening at the church parlors. Bilet was put out from jail yesterday. His mother released the security of the $500 bail equivalent.

Mrs. Emmet W. of Blue Island, Ill., is visiting her brother, Jay Land, a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Deards, Dorothy and Russell of Milwaukee spent Sunday with relatives here.

The Women's Home Missionary society held a chicken pie supper at the church this evening.

Mr. F. H. Fitch of Chicago, a federal agent, visited his cousin, C. W. Rittenburg, Saturday and Sunday.

Brodhead News

Brodhead, Oct. 25.—Miss Mabel Heath, teacher at the Poplar Grove School, with her pupils will give a basket social on the evening of Nov. 1st at eight o'clock.

While visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dunwiddie in Juda on Monday Mrs. Dunwiddie of this city accidentally fell down the cellar stairs breaking three ribs and other wise severely injuring herself. She is getting along as well as might be expected.

Mrs. C. H. Moorehouse of Denver, Colorado, who was the guest of Brodhead friends, departed for her home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Anna Mitchell went to Whitewater Tuesday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Lee Engstrom and family.

I WANT A PEANUT ROASTER FOR A FAMILY OF FIVE—WITHOUT ANY FRILLS

PEANUT ROASTERS
There are peanut roasters to fit every purse. Some are simple, some are elaborate—uselessly and foolishly elaborate, we think. If a family can afford a fancy peanut roaster (12 cylinders and cut-glass flower vases), well and good. But there is a lot of pleasure to be derived out of a plainer peanut roaster, and if a family has to be satisfied with a more modest roaster, it ought to be. Lots of people don't have any peanut roasters at all.

The whole home life can be centered around a peanut roaster. They are truly a domestic blessing. They are music-box, cook stove, heating apparatus and automobile—all in one.

Many families keep their peanut roaster in the music room. What is more soothing on a long winter evening than the gentle song of a peanut roaster!

Other families maintain that the peanut roaster is not musical, but culinary. This is an open question. Personally we think the peanut roaster should be kept in the sitting room, where the family may gather around for warmth and comfort and peanuts. A peanut roaster all aglow has much of the charm of an open fireplace. It is cozy, radiant, and homelike. Many families who have them, do away entirely with their heating furnaces, though we hardly advise that.

Some women perform all their cooking on a peanut roaster, right in the front room. Peanut roasters will roast a turkey, stew a tomato or bake a cake in a most gratifying manner.

After dinner, the family can climb in the roaster and take a ride. It may be a little crowded, but, mother can ride, if necessary, in one of those little side tubs such as they have for motorcycles; and father and the children can straddle the roaster itself, with father at the helm, of course, and Little Willie perhaps, tooling the peanut whistle to warn pedestrians.

A peanut roaster is a good, all-around investment.

NEWS NOTES—MOVIELAND

Emmy Wehlen is now at work on the feature photodrama, "Vanity," which Aaron Hoffman has written especially for the star. It shows Miss Wehlen's versatility, being totally unlike "The Pretenders," the latest screen production in which she appeared, or in fact, any other of her productions. Paul Gordon, who plays opposite Miss Wehlen in "The Pretenders," has been engaged to support her in "Vanity" as well. He is best remembered for his work as the first husband in the stage production, "Mojack." The play illustrates the lengths to which a vain woman will go to obtain the means with which to feed her vanity, but more than that it shows the adroitness, the careful plotting and planning of a man who is determined to throw a net around a woman from which she cannot extricate herself without his dearest help. Tom O'Keefe plays the chief of detectives, and W. Black is his lieutenant.

NELL PENS PLAY IN RECORD TIME
It may have been the inspiration offered by a week of camping in the Sierra mountains, or maybe it was just the reaction from the four weeks of activity in a Lasky picture in a role opposite Lou Tellegen, but whatever the cause, the result was a five-reel feature complete with continuous, written by Nell Shipman within three days after her recent return from the mountains. The trip was made with another picture girl and the experience encountered by them and their thirty-mile hike out of Goldows Camp were ones that make interesting telling and would make even more interesting reading if the Shipman will have the time to put them into story form.

Eddie Ring Sutherland is surprising the many who know of his experience and ability in musical comedy by remaining in pictures, when there is definite call for juvenile leading men in the musical-comedy field. Mr. Sutherland has a reason, however, that is all-sufficient, namely, that he wants to make a success in pictures because admittedly it will be through his own efforts, while any stage credit he would receive might naturally be attributed to his relationship with Blanche, Cyril and other members of the Ring family.

Heart and Home Problems

By Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson
Letters may be addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in care of The Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: There is a Spanish man who has started to work here. I do and he has fallen in love with me. He is very nice looking and at first I was glad when he talked to me. Then he asked to come to see me and because I knew my parents wouldn't like it I wouldn't let him come. He wrote me a letter then and said that he loved me. I answered and said that he mustn't, because I didn't love him and never could. Then he wrote me several letters begging me to love him. He said he was very lonesome and he wanted to love me and have me. I returned his love. I was sick a few weeks ago and I couldn't go to work. One day he came to our house at half-past six and insisted upon seeing me. I wouldn't go down. While my mother was upstairs telling me that he had come he took my picture that was on the piano and he wouldn't return it. I can't make him stop loving me and I want to know what I can do except refuse attention from him. Most love does not endure repeated discouragement.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am seventeen years old and I am in love with a boy who goes to school with me. He is a boy of a fine character and everyone respects him. Do you think I am too young to go with him? (2) How many times a week should he come to see me? (3) Other boys want to come to see me too and my friend does not want me to let them. Should I? (4) There is going to be a party and another girl invited my boy and I. He said I should go. I couldn't go. I was invited to the same party and I invited him to go.

with me. He said he didn't dare go as long as he had told the other girl he couldn't go. Don't you think as long as I am his girl that he could go with me all right even if he did refuse to go with the other girl?

SCHOOL GIRL
(1) I think you are old enough to go with him some.

(2) Once a week is as often as a boy ought to call on a seventeen-year-old girl.

(3) You should let the other boys come.

(4) If the boy has not gone with the other girl she should not have asked him to go to the party. If you have been the only girl he has gone with I think it would be all right for him to go to the party with you, even after refusing her.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: One day a boy took a kodak picture of me when I had my tongue out. It was a disgusting picture and I didn't know that he was taking it. After he had it developed he showed it to me and I told him I didn't think he should have taken it and then I forgot all about it. The other day another boy I knew showed me the picture. The boy who took it had given it to him. I was furious and made him give it to me, and I made the boy who took it give me the film and another print he had. The boy who took it said he was very sorry and he wanted me to forgive him and be friends again. What would you advise me to do?

DOUBT
If the boy is sincerely sorry it will be all right to forgive him this time. He had no right to give away your picture without your permission even if it had been a good one.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is it all right to accept a ring with an opal in it from a boy? KATHERINE
A girl should not accept any kind of jewelry from a boy.

She Wishes the Waist Line Were a Little Bit Higher.

I have a friend who has never yet, so far as I can find out, had a waist with which she was perfectly satisfied. Sometimes she buys them ready-made and has them altered, and sometimes she has them made by a dressmaker. But never, in any case, are they wholly right. Frequently the fit of the sleeve does not quite suit her. If it isn't that, it is the hang of the skirt. Or, maybe, she wishes the waist line had been a little bit higher.

I had heard they had found M—a very pleasant place and the food unusually good. "Yes," she said, "the food was pretty good on the whole, but I did wish they would have cooked cereal in the morning."

Beyond a certain point, satisfaction is not a matter of what you have, it is a matter of what you look at in what you have.

In other words, it is a point of view.

To take this humble instance—one woman saw the lack of cooked cereal, the other saw the fried chicken.

Because Thorns Have Roses.
Some people go through the world complaining because their roses have thorns. Others are always happy because their thorns have roses.

A discontented, restless, never quite satisfied frame of mind is a mental deformity. He who possesses it is cross-eyed in the mind. Instead of seeing the roses, he sees the thorns.

Now, I hate the shushy, sentimental kind of optimism—no one more so than I believe in resenting injustice, in admitting when things are wrong, and in trying to improve one's condition. But as a straight common-sense proposition, I do not wish to concentrate your attention on the minor flaws of life.

MODIFIED MARRIAGE PROBLEM FOR EUROPE WHEN WAR IS ENDED

Sociologists Argue as to Changing of Nuptial Laws—Advocate Legalized Polygamy.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Vienna, Oct. 25.—Whether or not Europe will be obliged to change its marriage laws as the result of the war is a question which has recently occupied sociologists in the central states. Most of them are of the opinion that material modifications must ensue; a few think that legalized polygamy must be established in order to provide for the surplus of women which two years of warfare has made one of the problems of all Europe.

The total population of the states at war, the non-Asian elements of Russia excepted, is roughly 375,000,000, of which, according to best sources, 188,000,000 are women and 187,000,000 men. For the countries of Europe where exact statistics are available the proportion is 105 males to 107 females. For Europe this leaves 18 million females of which number a third would be marriageable.

For this million of women who at present can find no husbands for the reason that nature, while ensuring excess in the birth of males permits more of them to die in infancy, will be added at least eight millions whom death on the battlefield and incapacitating wounds has also destroyed.

Europe, therefore, is face to face with the question of how these nine million women are to be cared for.

Economically the problem has been solved by the women themselves, by showing that in many departments of industry they are able to fill a place vacated by men. The sociologists point out that the state makes provisions tending to avert this, a certain natural law would increase greatly the rate of illegitimacy of children, which even now is a serious problem.

At the conclusion of the Thirty Years' War similar conditions prevailed. It was met in many ways. One European state, by making polygamy legal, when the proportion of males and females had been readjusted by the coming of peace, sought to meet the situation. For the time being the European parliaments are too occupied with matters affecting the continuation of the war, but expansion on the part of women in that case has some sort of legislation will be necessary.

Several writers point out that it will take two generations before the social equilibrium can be re-established. The tendency of men to marry women younger than they themselves are is held responsible for this. "Only when the man comes from three to five years his junior, and some authorities fear that greater choice, which the excess of women will give, will decidedly favor this inclination, so that only the girl who today is from twelve to thirteen years old can hope to be the subject of competition among men which her mother was."

This would be a matter of only seven to eight years for most of Europe; provided the end of the war comes soon. Should the war continue for one or two and so cause the loss of many young men who are now from fifteen to sixteen years old, the problem would be much larger. The excess in that case the excess of women over men would be no less than eleven millions, so that for every male of marriage age, during the next ten years, there would be almost two single women.

It is impossible to say just how European legislatures will meet the situation. Legal polygamy is so unpopular in Europe's social system and religion that opposition to it will be great. The belief is held, for this reason, that legally at least illegitimacy will be abolished and that laws will be passed giving the child born out of wedlock every right upon the care and property of its father. It is argued, that this measure of expediency would meet the situation easily, and that it would violate no social arrangement now in force, giving in its most extreme application, a precedent for a tendency which has manifested itself in Europe for several years past.

MILWAUKEE SCHOOL MAN WANTS COMMUNITY DANCE

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25.—Community dancing for Milwaukee was urged here today by Harold O. Berg, supervisor of recreation of Milwaukee public schools.

Berg, who recently returned from the annual convention of the Playground Recreation Association of America, held at Grand Rapids, Mich., said that the community dancing is sweeping the country.

"It seems that many of the cities represented at the convention are wishing to adopt community dancing, but very few of them have really done anything tangible," he said.

More Artistic Cemeteries.

Many of the large cemeteries the country over have stopped the individual planting on graves. All work is done in them by the cemetery association. This tends to keep the cemeteries more park-like and does away with the scattered effect of present planting methods. The old method has a sentimental about it that is hard to break away from, but the restricted planting makes a much prettier effect.

Killing the Calves

All sorts of excuses are offered for the high price of beef, the most plausible being the alleged demand for veal—"the killing of calves which should be allowed to grow into regular beef." You cannot have beef if you eat it as veal, but you can have Shredded Wheat Biscuit which contains more real nutriment than beef and costs much less. Shredded wheat biscuit is the whole wheat steam-cooked, shredded and baked. Make it your "meat" for ten days and see how much better you feel. Training a Husband

Morris at Last Sees Himself as Others See Him.

"Yes, I stand for everything that makes the home better." There was a self-satisfied air about the host as he sat in his chair and thrust his hands deep in his pockets.

"I am glad to hear you say that, Mr. Evans," said a young man like that in America. Morris beamed his pleasure.

"Yes, indeed," echoed the man at his side. "What the children get in the home stays by them. 'The sound of healthy young voices, and the patter of active feet overhead was distinctly audible. Mr. Evans smiled and frowned."

"The influence of environment is only dimly understood by some well-meaning people," continued Morris.

The hilarity was growing apace and evidently a race was in progress, to judge by the scowling expression on his face and exasperated himself.

"It is a queer thing that you have no control over those children," came from a young man who sat next to the closed door. "I've said enough about the rough house those children make to have it stopped." The answer in a low conciliatory tone could not be heard.

"Mr. Southy is an educated man; he knows how children should behave. He will think we have a brood of savages here."

"The influence of the carrying power of his voice. Again the mild, soft answer that did not seem to turn away the

Household Hints

CANNING AND PRESERVING.

Apple Marmalade (new).—One quart cranberries stewed and put through a sieve, two quarts apple pulp and spice, also strained; add equal weight of sugar and cook until thick. This makes a delicious and daintily colored marmalade.

Shredded Cabbage.—Six quarts cabbage shredded fine; four quarts green tomatoes, twelve onions, three large peppers chopped, one ounce celery seed, four ounces white mustard seed, one and one-half quarts sugar, two and one-half quarts vinegar, two tablespoon salt. Boil slowly one hour and can.

To Keep Beets.—Cook until tender, slice them and prepare with vinegar, sugar and mixed spices as if for canning. Place them in a large jar and cover the top entirely with mustard seed; put on weight and tie a cloth over top. These will keep all winter and the last of them will be better than the first.

THE TABLE.

Sugar Cookies.—Half cup butter, one cup sugar, one-fourth cup water, one teaspoon orange extract, two teaspoons baking powder. Flour to roll out—about two cups. Cream the butter, add sugar, beat eggs thoroughly without separating, add water, sift baking powder with the first cup of flour and add the orange extract and finally the rest of the flour. Roll thin, cut with fancy cutter, bake a delicate brown.

Date Muffins.—Two eggs, well beaten; two tablespoons melted shortening, one cup sugar, one-fourth cup milk or water, two level cups sifted flour, three teaspoons baking powder, six or eight dates, washed and cut into bits. Beat the eggs, add sugar, shortening and the cup of milk or water. Add the salt and baking powder to flour and sift. Add to first mixture and stir in. Bake in rather hot oven, in greased muffin tins.

Escalloped Carrots.—Boil carrots in salted water until tender; cut into quarter-inch slices and place in buttered baking dish. Add one cupful of well-made white sauce. Sprinkle the top with buttered bread crumbs and brown in oven.

English Beefsteak Pudding.—To two cups sliced beef add one cup beef suet chopped very fine, one-half teaspoon salt and pepper to suit the taste. Mix until fine as meal, then wet with cold water to a dough that can be rolled out. Butter a bowl, line it with the paste and set in close together rolls of round steak cut one-fourth inch thick and about three inches long. Lay each roll put a bit of veal kidney and a bit of suet; coat the roll with flour. When the bowl is packed turn in enough cold water to fill it. Cover with the paste, pinching the edges together. Put the bowl on a floured cloth, which bring up and tie so as to cover the entire pudding. Then drop into a kettle of fast boiling water.

The pudding must boil three hours without stopping, a tea kettle of water being kept boiling to replenish the pot from time to time. Serve in the dish in which it is cooked.

Dutch Filled Noodles.—Noodle dough, one-fourth peck spinach, two eggs, half pound sausage meat, sage, salt and pepper to season. Let the noodle dough dry only half an hour; put the cooked spinach through the food chopper, add the remaining ingredients, and beat thoroughly. Cut the noodle dough into strips four inches long and three inches wide, spread half of each with the filling and press together as in making turnovers. Drop into boiling well seasoned soup stock and cook for about ten minutes. Serve with the stock in soup plates.

Sweet Potato au Gratin.—Sweet potatoes, six (boiled), butter, two tablespoons; canned corn, one can; brown sugar, one-fourth cup; grated cheese, one-fourth cup. Melt butter in baking dish, place layer of potatoes on bottom and add layer of corn. Sprinkle with brown sugar, salt and pepper and grated cheese. Repeat about three times and place buttered bread crumbs over the top of the last layer. Bake in a moderate oven twenty to twenty-five minutes.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull red, feeling—a sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

The Idyl of Twin Fires

By WALTER
EATON

Copyright by Doubleday, Page & Co.

"Don't speak," she said, leading the way out of the grove.

We went into the house again to make sure that the fires had burned down. The room was darker now, filled with twilight shadows. The last of the logs were glowing red on the hearths, and the air was hot and heavy after the fresh outdoors. But how cheerful, how friendly, how like a human thing, with human feelings of warmth and welcome, the room seemed to me!

"It has been a wonderful day," said I, as we turned from the fire to pass out. "I wonder if I shall ever have so much joy again in my house?"

The girl at my side did not answer. I looked at her, and saw that she was struggling with tears.

I did instinctively the only thing my clumsy ignorance could suggest—put my hand upon hers. She withdrew it quickly.

"No, no," she cried under her breath. "Oh, I am such a fool! Fool—middle English fool, fool, fool! Foolish, foolish French fool—always the same word!"

She broke into a plaintive little laugh, ran through the hall and lifted the stove lid to see if the fire there was out, and hastened to the room, where I had difficulty to keep pace with her as we walked up the stairs to supper.

"You need a rest more than you think, I guess," I tried to say, but she only answered, "I need it less," and made off at once to her room. That night I didn't go back to my house to work. I didn't work at all. I looked out of my window at a young moon for a long while, and then—yes, I confess it, though I was thirty years old, I wrote a sonnet:

CHAPTER IX.

Acton and Diana.

Memorial day dawned fair and warm. Bert and his wife and all their "help" went off to the village after breakfast. There were no painters in my house, and Mike had nipped the cows and gone home before I arrived. Miss Goodwin and I seemed to have that little section of Benford quite to ourselves, after the last of the carry-alls had rattled past, taking the veterans from Slab City to the town. Having no flag yet of my own, I borrowed one from Bert, and we hung it from a second-story window, facing the road, as our day contribution to the sentiment of the day. Then we tackled the rose trellis, speedily completing it, for only two arches remained to be built, one of the carpenters having built three for me the day before, while waiting for some shingles to come for the barn. Indeed, we had it done by ten o'clock.

"Now what?" said she.

I looked about the garden. The roses had not yet come, so we couldn't very well plant them. I judged that the morning of a warm, sunny day was a time to transplant seedlings. The painting was not yet completed inside, so I could fix up no more of my rooms. The vegetable garden didn't appear to need cultivation. We couldn't paint the trellis, as there was no green paint.

"Good gracious!" I exclaimed, "this is the first time I've been at a loss for something to do. It's a terrible sensation."

"Couldn't we build a bird bath?" she suggested.

"Madam," said I, "you are a genius!"

"At the brook?" she added.

"No, not the brook. I've a better idea," said I. "My plan is to put the bird bath on the east edge of the lawn, halfway between the house and the rose aqueduct, corresponding to the sundial in the center, and to a white bench which will be placed at the west side when the grape arbor is built."

"Approved," laughed Miss Goodwin. We measured off the spot, and I so badly, as I had discovered in my orchard work. But she kept busy mixing with the hoe, and handing me bricks. Some I broke and put in endwise, and I was careful to give all as irregular a setting as possible, till the wall was reached. Then, of course, I laid an even line of the best bricks carefully, and leveled them out.

Yes, I Confess It—I Wrote a Sonnet.

We had scarcely got the last brick on when we heard Bert's carriage rattle over the bridge and Bert's voice yelling "Dinner!"

"Oh, dear! That cement in the box will harden!" I cried. "Dump it all in!"

Then, mixing more cement I laid a square bowl, as it were, two inches deep, on the top of the little brick pile.

We let it settle a few moments, and then carefully broke away the box. There stood the bird bath.

"Can we put water in it yet?" the girl asked.

"Surely," said I. "Cement will harden under water. And we'll plant climbing nasturtiums around it, too."

We passed through the house. The kitchen, dining room, and hall were finished and the paint drying. They looked very fresh and bright. The south room, as we stepped into it, was flooded with sunlight and cheerful with rugs and books. Flinging wide the glass door, we stepped out upon the terrace of the pergola-to-be, and looked toward the new bird bath. Upon its rim sat a song sparrow! Even as we watched, another came and fluttered his feet and breast daintily through the trembling little mirror of water. Then came a robin and dove them both away.

"The pig!" laughed Miss Goodwin. "Do you know, I've got a poorer opinion of robins since I came here. We city dwellers think of robins as bar-bingers of spring, and all that, and they epitomize the bird world. But when you really are in that world, you find they are rather large and vulgar and—sort of upper West sidey. They aren't half so nice as the song sparrows, or the Peabodys, and, of course, compared with the thrushes—well, it's like comparing Owen Meredith with Keats, isn't it?"

"Don't be too hard on the robins," I smiled.

We looked our fill at the new bird bath, which was already functioning, as she said her boss on the dictionary would put it, and at the white sundial, pillar, and at our prospective aqueduct of roses, and at the farm and the far hills beyond—and then she suddenly announced with great energy that she was going to saw wood.

"You may saw just one piece," said I, "and then you are going to take a book and rest. I'm going to work, myself. Twin Fires is getting in shape fast enough now so I can give up part of the daytime to the purely mundane task of paying the bills."

I wheeled up a big dead apple branch from the orchard to the wood shed, put it on the back, gave her the back-saw, and watched her first efforts, grinning.

"Go away," she laughed. "You bother me."

So I went, opened the west window by my desk to the wandering summer breeze, and went at my toll. Presently I heard her tiptoeing into the room.

"Done?" said I.

She nodded. "Now I want—let's see what I want—well, I guess 'Marius the Epicurean' and 'Alice in Wonderland' will do. I'm going to sit in the orchard. You work here till five or your salary will be docked. Good-by."

I heard her go out by the front door, and then silence settled over the sunlit, cheerful room, while I plugged away at my tasks. I don't know how long I worked, but finally my attention began to wander. I wondered if she were still in the orchard. I looked out upon the sweet stretches of my farm, with the golden light of afternoon upon it, and work became a burden. "Shall I ever be able to work, except at night, or on rainy days?" I wondered with a smile, as I tossed the manuscript I was reading into a drawer, and went out through the front entrance.

The girl was nowhere to be seen. "She's probably in her beloved pines," I reflected. "It would be a good time to clean out a path in the pines." I turned back to get a hatchet, and then went down toward the brook.

I trod as noiselessly as I could through the maples, thinking to surprise her at her reading, and took care in the pines not to step on any dead twigs. She was nowhere to be seen near the upper end of the grove, but as I advanced I heard a splashing louder than the soft ripple of the brook, and suddenly around a thick tree at a bend in the stream, where the brook ran out toward the tamarack swamp in the corner of my farm, I came upon her. She had her shoes and stockings off, and with her skirts bled high she was wading with solemn, quiet delight in a little pool. Her back was toward me. I could have discreetly retreated, and she been none the wiser. But, alas! Acton was neither the first nor the last of his sex. The water rippled so coolly around her white ankles! The sunlight dappled down so charmingly upon her chestnut hair! And I said, with a laugh, "So that is why you wanted me to work until five o'clock!"

She turned with a little exclamation, the color flaming to her cheeks. Then she, too, laughed, as she stood in the brook, holding her skirts above the water.

"Consider yourself turned to a stag," she said.

"All right," I answered, "but don't stay in that cold water too long."

"If I do it will be your fault," she smiled, with a sidelong glance. Then she turned and began wading tentatively downstream. But the brook deepened suddenly, and she sank almost to her knees, catching her skirts up just in time. I withdrew hastily, and called back to her to come out. When I heard her on the bank, I brought her a big handkerchief for a towel, and withdrew once more, telling her to hurry and help me fawn the path through the pines. In a moment or two she was by my side. We looked at each other. Her face was still flushed, but her eyes were merry. We were standing on almost the exact spot where we had first met. But now there seemed in some subtle way a new bond of intimacy between us, a bond that had not existed before this hour. I could not analyze it, but I felt it, and I knew she felt it. But what she said was:

"I told you to work till five o'clock."

"It's half-past four," I answered.

"Besides, you must have sent for me. Something suddenly prompted me to come out and hunt you up, at any rate."

"To say I sent for you is rather—rather forward, under the circumstances, don't you think?"

"It might be—and it might not be," I answered. "Did you have a good time?"

"The best I ever had—till you spoiled it," she exclaimed. "Oh, the nice, cold brook! Now, let's build the path you spoke about, once."

We went back to the maples, where the ground was open, and selected a spot on the edge of the pines where the path would most naturally enter. Then we let it wind along by the brook. When we reached the bayfield wall beside the house it was nearly six o'clock.

"Now, let's just walk back through it!" she cried. "Tomorrow we can bring the wheelbarrow, can't we, and pick up the litter we've made?"

"Can, at any rate, while you wade," said I.

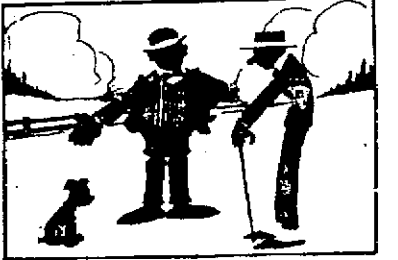

She shot a little look up into my face, and then she said:

"That's Why You Wanted Me to Work Until Five O'Clock!"

In the low afternoon light we turned about and retraced our steps. There was but a fringe of pines along the southern wall, and as they were forty-year-old trees here the view both back to the house and over the wall into the next pasture was airy and open. Then the path led through a corner of the tamarack swamp where in wet weather I should have to put down some planks, and where the cattails grew breast high on either side. Then it entered the thick pine grove where a great many of the trees were evidently not more than fifteen or twenty years old and grew very close. The sunlight was shut out, save for daggers of blue between the trunks toward the west. The air seemed hushed, as if twilight were already brooding here. The little brook rippled softly.

SUDDEN DEATH

Before an insurance company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test your water and report whether you are a good risk.

When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout, or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night—take heed, before too late!

You can readily overcome such conditions and prolong life by taking the advice of a famous physician, which is: "Keep the kidneys in good order, avoid too much meat, salt, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking Anurie in tablet form."

You can obtain Anurie at almost all drug stores. It was the discovery of Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo.

A PROMINENT WOMAN OF WISCONSIN.

Appleton, Wis.—"I found Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to be very good. About six years ago I had won't only weakness, I took this medicine and it cured me in about six months. I am quite sure it is a permanent cure, as I have never felt any return of this ailment and I am well and hearty as any one could wish to be. I can recommend the 'Prescription' very highly."—Mrs. C. M. Brainard, 820 State Street.

Favorite Prescription can be procured at almost any drug store in liquid or tablets.

Dinner Stories

Mrs. A. was considerably annoyed to find her neighbor's chickens continuously overrunning her garden.

"Go round to the next door, Jane," she said to the maid servant, and point out to Mrs. B. that her chickens bother us a good deal, and ask if she'll kindly try to keep them at home."

The girl returned with a satisfied look on her face. "I don't fancy we shall have 'em round here again in a hurry, miss," she replied.

"I hope you were polite, Jane," remarked the mistress.

"Oh, yes, ma'am," came the reply. "Missus' respects, I s'pose, 'an' if your chickens ain't keep 'em you won't be gettin' no many eggs of a mornin', and we shall be eatin' poultry."

"Do you ever ask four wife's advice about things?" "No, sir; she doesn't want to be asked."

Message to Dad. Margaret had been disobedient and was put to bed at six o'clock instead of eight one summer evening. As her mother was leaving her bedside the little girl remarked, cheerfully: "Be sure to say 'good afternoon' to father for me."

USE NEAT SIGNS ON FARM BUILDINGS IF YOU WOULD ATTRACT FAVORABLE COMMENT

It Pays to Advertise. Business Card on a Wisconsin Seed Curing House.

Which would you rather have on the side of your barn "PINKERTON'S PILLS CURE THE PIP" or "SMOKE BL POGO 5-CENT CIGARS" gaudily displayed in red letters a yard high, or something like one of these: "JOHN DOE, REDFERN SHORT-HORNS AND DUROC JERSEYS," "LAKE VIEW SEED FARM, HENRY JONES, PROP."

Although the days are fast passing when farmers will allow smooth strangers to "slip them a dollar" for the privilege of spreading several gallons of unseemly advertising literature over the innocent surfaces of barns and tool houses, one still sees an occasional farmstead turned into a business directory for tobacco manufacturers and patent medicine houses.

Recent campaigns in the interests of landscape art have done much to convince farmers of the ugly aspect which nondescript wall signs tend to a place, no matter how beautiful its natural surroundings may be. In the same class with painted signs on barns, may be mentioned the erection of screeching sign boards in open meadows and pasture lands, placed near railroads to rob the traveler of pleasant memories of the country through which he is passing.

Instead of buying advertising space in the local papers the representative of the advertising agency pays the owner a small annual fee for the right to place these hideous signs on his barn or landscape. The farmer receives but a "mess of pottage" comparable to the circus agent who hands out tickets for the family and then spreads "Jingling's Mammoth Shows" all over the farm.

If one must use wall space to advertise, let it be to tell passersby the name and purpose of the farm. In these days of special names for farms, such a plan works well, providing the letters are done in single, pure, contrasting colors, and are not made too large.

The farmer has a right to put up his business sign board as well as the banker or business man in town, but the more conservative and modest it is, the better and more effective will its message strike the reader on the road.

JANESVILLE WOMEN ARE CAUGHT BY THE 10 CENT PETTICOAT

When you come to consider the continually availing H. C. of L. and in fact the H. C. of just about everything else, you really can't blame "the woman" for wanting to grab off a soft snap and get a silk petticoat in the bargain. But when you stop to realize that "fren" wife and all her sex are reputed to be more or less super-normal as regards that w. k. temperament, it is not surprising you must admit, "Barnum was right." Incidentally if the wife was stung you'll agree that Barnum had the proportion far too low and instead of a fool being born every sixty seconds, you'll say that there are sixty.

It seems that no small number of Janesville women fell for the "endless letter chain" scheme promoted by the National National Mail Order Brokerage Exchange of Minneapolis. To every woman who would send ten cents in silver and write five friends, promising to join the chain, the "exchange" promised a "new 1917 model silk petticoat."

The National Mail Order Brokerage Exchange has no more and those women who appeared to answer the letter with a dime more than three weeks ago are out the price of a loaf of bread. The United States postal department is returning the dimes and letters mailed during the past three weeks. At this time the offices in Minneapolis were suddenly vacated and now the promoters are dodging the postal bureau sleuths.

Miss Elizabeth Cain, 21 North Chatham street, was one of the fortunate local ladies to have her dime returned with the bargain she set down. Arthur Cain of Waukesha, was even a little bit more fortunate. She got a "1917 model" petticoat. And it was her under-skirt that caused so many women here to send their dimes.

From the "chain letter" printed below it can be seen that there are several strings attached. It seems every forty-fourth woman who sent a dime got a petticoat. Mrs. Cain's letter happened to be the forty-ninth and she received a garment. Enthusiased with the bargain she set down, she wrote just about every woman she could think of. Each one sent a dime and wrote the letter to five friends.

They came the awakening. Postmaster E. A. Purdy, Minneapolis, as follows: "The volume of mail matter for the exchange is still rapidly growing and today we received 25,000 letters, enclosing 25,000 dimes."

Even G. R. Q. Wallingford will have to take off his hat to the promoters of this scheme. Twenty-five hundred letters per day hereabouts is considered fairly good pay.

When you read down this far ask "the wife" for her copy of the following letter:

Dear friend: To introduce and advertise our ready-to-wear goods in the best way we will give to anyone complying with conditions herein stated, our 1916 model petticoat, which retails at $4.50. Give length and color wanted. Make five copies of this and send to five friends. Then mail names and addresses to National Mail Order Brokerage Exchange, 520 Glock Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn., with 10c in postage. Receive a silk petticoat without further expense. This offer is for anyone who wishes to comply with the request.

All skirts are guaranteed. This "must" be written the day after you receive this.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS HEALTH WAGON HERE

Theodore Werle, Field Worker for Association, Will Work in This City the Latter Part of Week.

Janesville was today visited by the "Health Wagon" of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, on its way into Green county, where it will operate for a few days before returning to this city for a series of lectures and exhibitions. The "health wagon" is the latest device of the association for carrying the health information and knowledge about disease prevention into the various cities of the state and into the rural communities. Rock county is one of the first in the state to be visited, having secured the educational novelty through the activity of its local anti-tuberculosis organizations.

Traveling by day and sleeping by night in the association's new health wagon, an automobile with a body built especially to house the association's traveling health exhibit and an adequate camping outfit, Theodore Werle, field lecturer for the association, is spreading the gospel of health in country districts by personal visits paid to farmers in their homes and by moving picture shows and health lectures held nightly in some village. He cooks his meals by the roadside and his meetings, wherever possible, are held out of doors.

Three years ago Mr. Werle began his famous motorcycle campaign which attracted the attention of the entire country. This year's purchase of an automobile is the logical outgrowth of that campaign and its success. The gift of a compact portable moving picture machine by the DeVry Corporation of Chicago, is a valuable contribution to the health education campaign. It makes it possible to present motion pictures instead of stereopticon slides, a fact greatly appreciated in country districts where moving pictures are a novelty. Mr. Werle carries several reels of films with him, and the portable moving picture machine is part of the health wagon's equipment. This machine, which looks like a travelingman's small sample case when it is closed, can be utilized wherever electric current is available, whether it be at a crossroad or a village park.

Bearing in mind the slogan: "ALL for HEALTH for all," the "health wagon" will continue to tour the state as long as weather conditions permit. The work of the rural campaigning will be resumed in the spring as soon as the roads are open, the purpose being to cover the country districts of the entire state, county by county.

The "health wagon" started its initial tour in Walworth county and has since been working through the rural sections of this county. Mr. Werle intends to keep up the work just as long as the weather will permit. His plan is to enlist the cooperation of the county superintendent of schools so that he can use the rural school houses to show his pictures and give his lectures in. Mr. Werle will return to Janesville in the latter part of the week. He has visited Brodhead and Monroe, and will probably show in the various city schools.

Her Vacation.

Little Elizabeth was enjoying an outing with her grandmother. She was amiable always, quite willing to do as her grandmother wished, except in one respect: she rebelled at the daily nap. "Why should I sleep?" she remonstrated. "This is my vacation."

WILLIAMS' TACTICS CREATE SENTIMENT FAVORING PHILIPP

Campaign of Misrepresentation Conducted by Democratic Turns Votes to Governor.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25.—Now that the campaign has progressed sufficiently so that the drift of sentiment has become apparent, there is a question that the tide is very strongly in favor of Governor Emanuel L. Philipp.

The character of the Democratic campaign against him, based as it is on falsehood and misrepresentation, has been so easily answered and met that it has had no force. Attacks based on bills which ended in error began on bills adopted by previous administrations, with an attempt to make it appear that they were responsibilities of the governor, have been so apparent in their falsity as to carry no weight whatever.

On the other hand, the straight forward campaign which Governor Philipp has been conducting, based on the same frankness as has characterized his entire public career, has won the hearts of the voters, and the strength which he exhibited in the primary has been greatly increased since the error began his campaign, until now it is only a question of how large the majority will be with which he will carry Wisconsin.

His friends desire that it be a very pronounced majority, and they are working to this end. One of the reasons for their energy lies in their resentment of the campaign which has been hurled against Governor Philipp—campaigns which have formed the basis of the Democratic campaign. The governor's friends feel that a stern rebuke should be administered to such campaign methods and that the public should be made fully aware of the absolute falsehood of the attacks which have been directed against Governor Philipp.

Characterless methods of the kind which have been used in the campaign by the Democrats against Governor Philipp inevitably have their recoil. Wisconsin voters are thinking voters, and the talk which is now heard through the state indicates that beyond question they have been discriminating in their opinions, and that they fully understand the absolute lack of foundation and the imaginary character of the tales which Burt Williams, Democratic candidate for governor, has attempted to palm off on the public.

STATE IS TRAINING LIVE-STOCK JUDGES

"To know good live stock when you see it" is in these days a valuable personal accomplishment, and to know live stock just a little better than seventeen other three-men teams of judges in a state-wide competition is a record of which to be proud.

The Milton high school live-stock judging team won the championship of the state in a contest held at the college of agriculture at the time of the convention of Wisconsin stockmen. From left to right around the state trophy the boys are Benjamin Kraus, Team That Won Championship.

Robert Gray and Howard Hollday. Out of a possible 1,800 points these students from Jefferson county scored exactly 1,402, outstripping their nearest competitor, the team from the Athens high school.

Another state-wide contest open to students of high schools teaching agriculture, or county agricultural schools, will be held next winter during the meeting of the Wisconsin Live-Stock Breeders' association. Details in regard to this activity for farm boys may be obtained by writing to T. L. Bewick, state leader of young peoples' agricultural clubs, or Raymond Baker, assistant secretary of the Wisconsin Live-Stock Breeders' association, Madison.

Planting Celery in Empty Hot Beds

Many of us who are fond of celery could have a liberal supply of the home-grown article. One way to grow it in Wisconsin is to utilize the empty hotbeds after the transplanting season is over.

This practice is advocated by J. R. Hepler of the college of agriculture, who asks: "Now that the garden hotbeds have done service for the season, why throw away the rich soil contained in them?"

"Plant celery in these beds and harvest it early in the fall. Healthy celery plants may be obtained at nominal prices from seedsmen and gardeners. The plants should be set in the hotbed in squares six inches each way. After that, keeping the plants well watered at all times is the big essential. "Good varieties to select are the Golden Self or the White Plume, either of which are self-blanching kinds. "Try this scheme and enjoy your favorite vegetable relish at small cost."

RESIGNS OFFICE IN BANK TO REMAIN HUGHES ELECTOR

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—Word was received here last night that O. G. Munson of Viroqua, a director of the First National Bank of Viroqua, had resigned in order to remain on the republican ticket as a Hughes presidential elector. A director of a national bank is under the law an officer and cannot serve as an elector. Four years ago Sol Levitan of Madison resigned as a director of the Commercial National Bank to be a Taft elector, and this year George W. Burton of La Crosse has asked that the name of John S. Medary of La Crosse be substituted for his own as an elector at large on the ground that Burton is a federal bank director.

CHURCH GOING EAST AROUND YALE'S END

Last season Church was one of the fastest subs on the Yale squad and this year he looks good for a regular job in the line-up throughout the rest of the season. The speed he has shown for his weight and especially his class in passing and overhead play will most likely get him into all of this season's games against Yale's hottest competition.

LOCAL PROMOTERS BACK BOXING CLUB FOR WINTER BOUTS

Will Get State Charter and Hold Shows Under Commission Regulation—City Gives Permission.

Janesville devotees to the ring sport and other athletic contests are planning for a series of exhibits this winter. An organization to be known as the Bower City Athletic association has been formed. Yesterday the city commission gave the association permission to conduct boxing and athletic exhibitions, providing they comply with state statutes. Backers of the club this morning stated that application for a charter would be made to the Wisconsin athletic commission this week and that the first boxing bouts were tentatively arranged for the first week in November. It is expected that the Auditorium will be engaged for the season. Just what hours will participate in the opening show is not known. The idea of the association will be to put on the very best of bouts. Under state regulations, the show must be of good standard. The athletic commission has charge of all bouts with jurisdiction to suspend boxers or confiscate the club's charter should any condition to warrant such arise.

FINES FOR PLAYING AFTER SEASON HOLD

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Chicago, Oct. 25.—Despite the protest of David L. Fultz, president of the baseball players' fraternity, against fining members of the order for playing exhibition games after the close of the season, it was declared today that the guilty players would have to contribute to the treasury of the national commission.

Mal Eason, one of the tried and true umpires of the National league, was shut out to the St. Louis fall series while Quigley batted around in the Big Games. Even Byron got in the Chicago series. But Eason should worry. He has a little ranch in the southwest and he knows that the fans and players generally appreciate him, even if the powers that be in the National league do not.

HOGG, PRINCETON CAPTAIN AND STAR GUARD, SHINES IN TIGERS' STRONG LINE

Captain Hogg of Princeton.

Captain Hogg of Princeton is one of the great strengths of what looks like as strong a line as there is in the east this fall. The Tigers may not have all their competition outclassed in every department of play, but they are showing great strength in their defense, and the team that gains considerably through their line may well brag about it.

Sport Snap Shots MORRIS MILLER

The season which recently came to a conclusion had many unusual and interesting features than any season in recent years. Not only were the pennant races in both leagues closer and more evenly sustained than for many years, but in the American league every team with the exception of St. Louis and Philadelphia had the honor of leading all their rivals at week ends. Only three clubs in the National league were ever out in front, these being Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston, and it was in the order named that they finished the season.

Benny Leonard, New York lightweight, can hit hard when he wants to. He scored a technical knockout in the twelfth round of his fight with Ever Hammer of Chicago at Kansas City recently. Hammer's manager stopped the fight to prevent his man being punished further after Hammer had been knocked down for the count of three. The fight was to have gone fifteen rounds.

The latest of the interminable yarns about the lamented Bugs Raymond is as follows: Raymond had been rather ill, and the club doctor gave him a potion to be taken at night before retiring. The next day the "doc" met his eccentric patient. "Well, Raymond," quoth the M. D., "how did you find yourself this morning?" "Easy," said Raymond, "easy. I just opened my lamps, and, by golly, there I was."

It was announced a short while ago that George Myers Church and Harold A. Throckmorton, both of New Jersey would compete for the lawn tennis championship of the orient on the courts of the Manila Tennis club at Manila, Philippine Islands, next January. Church and Throckmorton will leave New York about November 30, for the long journey take passage on the Empress of Russia from Vancouver, B. C. on November 30th, for the long journey across the Pacific. This will be the first time in the history of the far eastern championship that players from the United States have competed for the far eastern championship. The Pennsylvania University came forth to remark that private yachts and polo strings may be expensive, but they have little enough on the pigskin pastime. Lovett hit to be paid out for salaries to the coaching staff. Fortunately the team that runs up the biggest expenses also draws the biggest crowds and the nickles that roll in at some of the big games makes up a sum that no one would sneer at.

JANESVILLE PLAYS EDGERTON FRIDAY

Local Team Badly Handicapped By Injury to Coach Keck and By Loss of Captain Kober.

In spite of the disasters of the game last Saturday when, when both Coach Keck and Captain Billy Kober were so severely injured that they will not be able to appear for practice for the rest of the year, the team is in good spirits and is working with more zeal than they showed at any other time this year. They seem to realize just how hard a battle they have before them next Friday, when they meet the Edgerton boys, and are determined to do as much to them as possible.

Coach Keck was operated upon at Mercy Hospital yesterday morning, and is now doing very well, though it will be some time before he is up and about. The loss of Billy Kober is keenly felt by the team, for he was a strong point in the team and a good reliable man to run a team. For the rest of the season it is probable that Kenning will call signals, though the man to fill the quarterback position has not yet been chosen. Phillips is doing all the coaching in the absence of Keck. In spite of the adverse conditions he is optimistic and has great confidence in the spirit of the team. The school authorities are now letting men on the squad out at half past three, so that a good, long practice can be gotten in before dark. The game Friday with Edgerton will be in that city. It is probable that the team will go up late in the morning. Edgerton is heralded throughout the southern part of the state as an exceptionally strong team, and while Janesville enjoys no such distinction the local boys are determined to fight hard and do not expect a crushing defeat.

NORTHEAST PORTER

Northeast Porter, Oct. 24.—Every one in this vicinity is glad to know that the road between Emmet Shaw's corner and the "Sheepskin" or "Slick" road is being graveled. This will make a continuous stretch of fine road from the Ole Kjerms farm to the west city limits of Edgerton. The work is being done by the Edgerton, Wis. and Keokuk and Keokuk road work on building this part of the road also.

Miss Alice Wright is a business visitor in Stoughton this week. The Misses, Ella Drummond and Arville Cleser of Janesville, were over-Sunday guests of their aunt, Mrs. Ella Peach.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Severson and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sommerlund Sunday.

Mrs. Oscar Kjerms attended a linen shower given her sister, Miss Lena Heggestad, at the home of Mrs. Knut Jensen in Stoughton.

Mrs. Thomas Young and three children, and Mrs. Joe Spike of Edgerton, spent one day last week with Mrs. Albert Christian.

Mrs. Susan Nelson spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Carl Lein.

Services at the Stebbinsville church have been changed back to 2:30 instead of 2:00 p. m.

Mrs. Ben Peach was a Sunday guest of Mrs. Ella Peach.

Mrs. Ernest Haylock and Mrs. Lloyd Viney spent Sunday with Mrs. Harry Boothroyd.

Glenn Gardiner of the University of Wisconsin, and Miss Frances Gardiner of Hinsdale, Ill., were weekend guests at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gardiner.

Miss Irene Boothroyd has returned to her home after spending some time in Sauk City helping her sister, Mrs. Carl Lerner, getting settled on their new farm.

Mrs. Oseberg of Stoughton, is spending a couple of weeks with her son, Hans Oseberg.

Mrs. Ed. Jensen and daughter, Miss Eleanor, spent last week with Grandma Jensen, who is sick at the Oscar Egner home.

Little Clair Viney of Edgerton, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boothroyd.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gardiner and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Gardner, Jr. and son, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hall and Mrs. Lucy Pierce and son, Daniel of Albion Prairie, spent Sunday at the J. S. Marsden home in Edgerton, helping little Sammie Marsden celebrate his sixth birthday.

The chicken pie dinner given by the ladies of the Stebbinsville church last week, was a great success in every way. The church was packed both inside and out with people from all around, auto loads coming from Madison, Lake Mills and Edgerton to attend. Clarence Ruthford and Mesdames Elmer Gallop and Herbert Gallop of Lake Mills, gave interesting and helpful talks on the Social Center work.

BROOKLYN

Brooklyn, Oct. 24.—The first number of the lecture course, the Von Gelch Prentiss course was given at the M. E. church Monday evening to a good sized audience in spite of the inclement weather. Waldemar Von Gelch who is at the head of the violin department of music at the university of Wisconsin, gave a number of violin selections, with Mrs. Von Gelch as accompanist. In these he showed that he was a master of the violin. Miss Flora Prentiss, a reciter, pleased the audience with the miscellaneous readings which she rendered. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. White entertained thirty of their friends at a dinner at their home Friday evening. Bernice Christensen of New Glarus was an over Sunday visitor at the home of his parents. Mrs. L. C. Morrison and little daughter and Miss Mary Roberts visited relatives in Evansville Saturday. Miss Lilla Sorenson was a Madison visitor Thursday. Miss Agnes Mason of Madison spent Sunday at the home of her parents. Mrs. Armstrong returned Friday to her home at Valley Junction after a visit at the home of her son, L. T. Armstrong and family. C. F. Jacobson spent the last of the week at his home in this place. The Misses Elma Lindhartsen, Caroline Baumgartner and Gertrude Rasmussen were Evansville visitors Saturday. Will Rasmussen of Madison visited relatives and friends in this vicinity Sunday. Mrs. Fred Plummer of McIntyre, Iowa has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sprecher and Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Sprecher.

Square Deal for the Shops.

"If women had only the courage to stop shopping when they are tired," said a young woman the other day. "They buy things then that they do not and never will like and it is a bother to the women and a needless expense to the shops. The goods are inevitably returned and credited. When shops are so decent about accepting goods and crediting them it is only fair to such establishments to give them a square deal."

Satisfy!—that's a new thing for a cigarette to do

It's nothing for a cigarette to just taste good—lots of cigarettes may do that. But Chesterfields do more—they satisfy! Just like a thick, juicy steak satisfies when you're hungry.

Yet, with all that, Chesterfields are MILD!

No other cigarette can give you this new enjoyment (satisfy, yet mild), for the good reason that no cigarette maker can copy the Chesterfield blend—an entirely new combination of tobaccos and the most important development in cigarette blending in 20 years.

Another Proof That It Pays to Advertise an Auction in the Gazette
Milton, Wis., Oct. 20, 1916.
The Gazette, Janesville, Wis.
Dear Sirs:—I wish to say that I am well pleased with the results which I have obtained by advertising auction sale in your paper. I certainly got a good crowd by doing so and I also wish to say that I think Mr. W. O. Dooley is the best auctioneer I ever knew. If he can't sell anything no one can. If I should ever have another sale I would certainly get him if possible and I would do most of my advertising in the Gazette.
Yours truly,
HENRY HOLTZ.

FORTY YEARS AGO
The Janesville Daily Gazette, Oct. 25, 1876.—Oliver Goldsmith will be duly considered this evening at the All Souls church at half past seven.
Abundant arrangements have been made with all the livery and omnibus lines to carry persons to the grounds on Friday for ten cents each.
Prof. Woolett will meet all who desire to spend an evening in enjoyment of music at the Congregational church, at 7:30 o'clock, this evening.
An attempt was made to get Thomas A. Hendricks to come to Janesville and repair the damage done by Julian, but he cannot possibly come here.
Hotel men and restaurant keepers will do well to provide for a general rush on Friday, as all who come here on the cars to hear Blaine will need refreshments before they go to the grounds.
New York, Oct. 25, 1876.—One hundred thousand tons of Scranton coals were sold at auction today by order of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad. The following are the prices received: 10,000 tons steamer at $2.50 and $2.57 per ton; 25,000 tons grate at $2.75 and $2.82 1/2; 20,000 tons egg at $2.90 and $3; 5,000 tons chestnut at $3.75 and $3.82.
Mr. and Mrs. S. Burrows of Chicago are in the city and will remain several days as the guest of Dr. L. J. Burrows.
This morning Nathaniel Glover, a shoemaker in the Exchange block, was found dead by Mr. O'Neil, an employee. Marshal Keating was called and he pronounced the death as being caused by heart disease.

BED TIME TALES
By CLARA INGRAM JUDSON
The Magic Circle
If you make a wish and it don't come true, What in the world do you think you'll do?
FATHER BEAVER looked around the magic circle; he even poked a bit among the bushes to see if perchance the raft might be there. There wasn't a thing but grass—nice, smooth, green grass; just the same grass that had been there before he had made his wish.
So he turned to the left, he turned to the right, he shook his front paw and said, "Snookens, snookens, book-ins, I want a raft!" And again he looked around—and nothing was there!
"That's a great how 't do!" he exclaimed, and he was getting pretty cross by now, I tell you! "Get a creature's hopes all up and then nothing happens! I wish that Redhead would turn up now! I'd talk to him!"
And just then, Father Beaver heard the "rap, rap, rap, rap-a-pap" of Redhead's bill on the tree over his head. "Say," Redhead called.
Father Beaver (though I must say his voice wasn't nearly as fierce as he had thought he would make it), "something's the matter with your wishing circle. It won't work!"
"Won't work?" asked Redhead in surprise. "Why yes it will, I tried it only a little while ago."
"Well, it won't work for me, I know that," replied Father Beaver. "I tried it twice."
"You don't say so?" exclaimed Redhead. "What did you wish for?"
"A raft," replied Father Beaver proudly.
"A raft?" asked Redhead. "Why you can make a raft yourself."
"Of course, I could," answered Father Beaver. "But that takes too long. I'm going to wish for one."
